

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

McLellan and Partners operates worldwide, providing comprehensive consulting, engineering and project management services to industry, commerce, governments, public authorities, loss adjusters, insurance companies and financial institutions. Fields of specialist expertise includes metals, manufacturing industries, power generation and distribution, energy efficiency, environment, process design, mechanical and electrical engineering and building services.

McLellan is fully committed to achieving environmental best practice throughout its business activities wherever practicable.

McLellan recognises that the pursuit of economic growth and a healthy environment must be closely linked and that ecological protection and sustainable development are collective responsibilities in which governments, businesses, individuals and communities all play a role.

In accordance with the above, McLellan employs an Environmental Management System for the range of consultancy services provided to its clients, in conformance with the requirements of ISO 14001. This identifies significant impacts and sets clear objectives, against which McLellan will monitor and manage our environmental performance and legislative compliance.

McLellan will communicate with interested parties on aspects of its environmental performance, and will respond to any concerns or interests they may express in our environmental improvement programme.

The Company actively supports the principles of pollution prevention and applies the latest environmental principles and best practices in order to reduce the adverse environmental impacts of its operations and products, within reasonably practicable levels. The programme of continual environmental improvement adopted by McLellan demonstrates commitment to:-

- Complying fully with all relevant environmental legislation

- Optimising efficient use of raw materials and non-renewable resources
- Improving energy efficiency of processes and operations
- Ensuring all solid wastes are treated and disposed of in a responsible manner
- Minimising production of wastes at source
- Providing all employees with an understanding of this environmental policy, and their responsibilities in controlling and improving environmental performance
- Purchasing products and services that do the least damage to the environment as far as possible
- Providing our advice in the most environmentally friendly manner.

This Environmental Policy has been reviewed and endorsed by McLellan's Board of Directors, who take overall responsibility for the delivery of its respective aspirations.
